Notice

1 Title

This notice is the Animal Products (Export Verification Requirements) Notice 2009.

2 Commencement

This notice comes into force on the 1st day of July 2009.

Part 1 Preliminary Provisions

3 Application

- (1) This notice applies to—
- (a) animal product businesses (as defined in clause 4(1)),
  - (b) recognised verifying agencies, verifiers, and providers of ante-mortem and post-mortem examination who undertake verification activities for animal product businesses to which this notice applies.
- (2) This notice does not apply to—
- (a) animal product businesses processing, storing, or handling germplasm, or
  - (b) live animals for export which have not been the object of primary processing, or
  - (c) animal product businesses processing, storing, or handling for sale in New Zealand only, or
  - (d) operations subject to a regulated control scheme which does not expressly provide that the verification regime set out in this notice applies to that scheme.

4 Interpretation

- (1) In this notice, unless the context otherwise requires—
- acceptable outcome means the verifier is satisfied—
- (a) that the operator is substantially complying with all applicable regulatory requirements, and
  - (b) where there have been any departures from those requirements, that the operator's corrective actions have been, or are, appropriate and effective

Act means the Animal Products Act 1999

animal product and animal material—

- (a) have the same meaning as in section 4(1) of the Act, but
- (b) exclude live animals which have not been the object of primary processing, and germplasm

animal product business has the same meaning as in section 4(1) of the Act but is limited in this notice to only those animal product businesses that produce or process animal products requiring an official assurance for export. For the avoidance of doubt, this definition excludes businesses operating solely within the scope of paragraph (b) of the definition in the Act (“...exports animal material or product”) authorised person means a person authorised by the Director-General under section 65 of the Act to issue official assurances ceiling step means the longest verification interval available for animal product businesses that consistently achieve acceptable verification outcomes

initial step means the verification step that automatically applies to all new animal product businesses

NZFSA means the New Zealand Food Safety Authority

NZFSA website refers to the publicly accessible website for NZFSA located at url <http://www.nzfsa.govt.nz>

port visit normally means when a fishing vessel offloads fish material or fish products at a port, however if the verification interval for a vessel has been exceeded a port visit is any time the vessel is accessible from land recognised agency means an agency recognised under section 103 of the Act for the purposes of supplying verifiers to verify animal product businesses recognised agency technical manager is a person identified in clause 6(2)(c) of the Animal Products (Recognised Agencies and Persons Specifications) Notice 2007 or a corresponding clause of any amendment or replacement of that notice

slaughter means killing an animal under a humane slaughter programme as a process within a risk management programme registered under the Act, with the intention on the part of the risk management operator that at least part of the animal will be used for human or animal consumption unacceptable outcome means the verifier has determined that the operator is not in substantial compliance with all applicable regulatory requirements

verifier means a recognised person who performs verification, within the meaning set out in section 4 of the Act, for the purposes of this notice

- (2) Any words or expressions used but not defined in this notice that are defined in the Act, have the meaning given to them in the Act.

Part 2 General Requirements for Export Verification

5 Overseas market access requirements prevail if inconsistency

- (1) Subclause (2) applies to an animal product business that is processing or performing other activities in relation to animal products for export in circumstances where overseas market access requirements also apply (including in relation to supervision, examination, surveillance, frequencies of review, audit, and dormancy).
- (2) If there is a conflict between overseas market access requirements and this notice, the requirements of the overseas market access requirements prevail.

6 Operators seeking official assurance eligibility for animal product or animal material to arrange verification

- (1) Operators of animal product businesses must arrange for a verifier to verify their animal product business, including applicable export requirements issued under the Act, in accordance with this notice and the verification steps set out in schedule 1.
- (2) Sub-clause (1) does not apply if the animal product business is otherwise required to have a full time, on-site verifier present during operating hours. In this case clause 12 applies.
- (3) In addition to sub-clause (1), operators of fishing vessels must arrange for a verifier to verify the vessel operations by also applying schedule 2 and following the mechanism described in sub-clause (4).
- (4) In relation to verification of a fishing vessel, a verifier must—
  - (a) allocate a verification step under both schedule 1 and schedule 2, and

- (b) conduct verifications according to the step set under those schedules that will result in the shortest interval between verification visits.

7 Animal material and animal product not complying with export requirements

If after conducting a verification for the purposes of this notice, a verifier determines that animal product or animal material is not eligible for export to its intended market or markets, the verifier must—

- (a) notify the operator of the restriction on product eligibility, and
- (b) if there is a way in which the operator can restore product eligibility, advise the operator of the steps required to regain eligibility, and
- (c) confirm as soon as practicable that the operator has taken satisfactory action (for example re-labelling or segregation of products) to ensure the product or material cannot be exported to countries for which eligibility has been lost or suspended, and
- (d) if clause 7(b) applies, notify the operator when eligibility has been restored, and
- (e) in the case of operator non-compliance with eligibility restrictions:
  - (i) if the verifier is not an animal product officer, notify an animal product officer and request that he or she commences regulatory action if appropriate, or
  - (ii) if the verifier is an animal product officer, notify the operator of any intention to act in the capacity of an animal product officer and follow the provisions of the Act accordingly.

Part 3 Verification Steps and Intervals

8 Assignment and adjustments to verification steps for an animal product business

- (1) After each verification visit carried out under schedule 1 or 2, a verifier must determine and record the verification step that will be applicable to subsequent verifications, regardless of whether the animal product business changes verification step.
- (2) The verifier may, after any verification visit carried out under schedule 1 or 2, adjust the verification step for an animal product business to place it on a step falling between the applicable 'Ceiling Step' and Step 1 (as set out in the relevant schedule).

9 Criteria for verification interval, and variance

- (1) Adjustments in the step placement made by the verifier under sub-clause (2) must be commensurate with the degree of compliance of the animal product business with its documented systems, including export-related requirements.
- (2) In making his or her determination as to the step on which the animal product business should be placed, the verifier must take account of risks and issues identified from the outcome of the most recent verification visit carried out under schedule 1 or 2, having regard to sub-clauses (3) and (4).
- (3) In response to ongoing acceptable verification outcomes, the verifier must place the animal product business on a higher step (resulting in longer intervals between verification visits). The verifier must not in any event increase the verification interval beyond the ceiling step given in Schedule 1 for the particular animal product business he or she is verifying.

- (4) In the event of an unacceptable verification outcome the verifier must place the animal product business on a lower step (resulting in shorter intervals between verification visits).
- (5) The verifier must notify the operator as soon as practicable of any adjustment to the verification step for that operator's animal product business (and therefore the interval between verifications).
- (6) To avoid predictability the verifier must conduct verifications with sufficient variation in day, time, shift, and interval between verifications. However such variation must not lead to a greater number of verification visits than would normally occur for the calendar year, having regard to the verification step(s) the business is operating under.

10 Notice, and urgent or additional verifications

- (1) The verifier must give a minimum of 5 working days notice to the operator of his or her intention to conduct a verification visit required by Schedule 1 or 2.
- (2) Despite sub-clause (1) the verifier may conduct verifications at short notice, or without prior notice—
  - (a) where for the purposes of clause 27 of the Animal Products (Recognised Agencies and Persons Specifications) Notice 2007 significant compliance issues have been identified during previous verification visits, or at any time after the last verification visit, or
  - (b) where the verifier has been notified that the Director-General is considering suspension, deregistration or de-listing of the operation under relevant provisions of the Act.
- (3) Despite anything in sub-clause (1) at least one in every ten verification visits carried out under Schedule 1 or 2 must be conducted without prior notice.
- (4) The verifier may conduct additional verifications at any premises for the purposes of conducting follow-up verification on any corrective or preventative actions which have been required from the findings of a previous verification.
- (5) For the purposes of this clause, "short notice" means no more than two full working days.

Part 4

Verification Outcomes and Follow-up Actions

11 Unacceptable outcomes at step 1 and step 2

- (1) Following an unacceptable outcome when the animal product business is at step 1 or step 2—
  - (a) the operator must prepare a written corrective action management plan,
  - (b) the verifier must provide written notification to the operator of issues required to be addressed in the plan,
  - (c) the operator must send the plan to the verifier for his or her agreement within 5 working days of receiving the notification.
- (2) Following an unacceptable outcome when the animal product business is at step 1—
  - (a) the verifier must place that animal product business on Step 00, and
  - (b) the Director-General, in consultation with the recognised agency technical manager, must decide on an appropriate verification interval for the animal product business, and

- (c) the Director-General, in consultation with the recognised agency technical manager and the operator, must determine the conditions for return to step 1, and
- (d) the verifier must only place the animal product business back on step 1 when all conditions set by the Director-General have been met.

12 Premises with full time verifier presence

- (1) Where an animal product business has fulltime verifier presence, the verifier must give the operator a verification report and outcome on a monthly basis. The monthly verification outcome must be notified in writing to the operator, or the operator's designated representative.
- (2) The verifier must determine the monthly verification outcome according to the level of operator compliance with New Zealand standards (e.g. RMP/RCS systems), general export requirements and overseas market requirements, relating to the animal product business being verified.

13 Reporting and record-keeping requirements

- (1) Following every verification conducted for the purposes of this notice, the verifier must designate the outcome as either "acceptable" or "unacceptable", and must report this to the operator.
- (2) As soon as practicable following verification, the verifier must provide a written report to the operator. The report must include the outcome of the verification and recommendations, requirements, or follow-up actions to ensure or improve compliance.
- (3) Recognised agencies that operate an animal product verification service must—
  - (a) operate a system whereby verification reports and outcomes are centrally recorded for performance monitoring and audit purposes, and
  - (b) make all verification information relating to animal product businesses, which is reasonably necessary to enable official assurances to be issued, available to authorised persons issuing official assurances and verifiers approving official assurance supporting documentation.

14 Follow-up actions

- (1) Subsequent to the identification of any follow-up actions in the verifier's report, as required by clause 13(2), the operator must (in consultation with the verifier) designate a period of time within which the follow-up actions will be completed.
- (2) The operator must confirm to the verifier that any follow-up actions have been addressed within the designated period of time.
- (3) If follow-up actions are required as a result of serious non-compliance (as identified by the verifier), the operator must make the confirmation required under sub-clause (2) in writing.
